

Call for Applications

Organization: World Council of Comparative Education Societies (WCCES)

Location: Geneva (Switzerland)

Position: Volunteer

Established in 1970 and organized as an NGO in official consultative status with UNESCO, the World Council of Comparative Education Societies (WCCES) is an international organization of comparative education societies from across the globe.

WCCES is inviting applications for two volunteers to be assigned to its secretariat located at the premises of UNESCO International Bureau of Education (IBE), Geneva (Switzerland).

These volunteer positions are unpaid and the duration for each is for a period of 9 months. The positions are non-renewable.

Reporting to the WCCES Executive Director, the interns will be assigned office space in the WCCES secretariat to discharge their assigned responsibilities, which will include work related to the WCCES activities, specific events, publications, and general administration. The responsibilities for each volunteer will be detailed in their respective letters of appointment.

Desirable qualifications

- Interest in comparative and international education
- Bachelors, Masters or Doctoral degree in comparative education/ social sciences/ business management
- Excellent written and oral communication skills in English (and any of the other 5 official languages of the United Nations viz. Arabic, Chinese, French, Russian and Spanish)
- Legally eligible to work in Switzerland. Proof of eligibility must be provided if selected.

The volunteers will receive a certificate of appreciation upon successful completion of their term.

To ensure that two volunteers are on duty at any given time, there is no closing date for the applications. The first two volunteers are expected to start as soon as possible.

Contact: executivedirector@wcces-online.org with a one-page letter of interest along with your CV and contact details of two references.
